This department has met my expectation for the course of Instrumentation. It made me imbibe the most important dimensions of an instrumentation engineer and good value in the modern world making him eligible to go in any aspect of work. Moreover, my experience with the department's faculties and friends had been very good throughout my four years

When I joined AIHT in 2005, I was having lots of dreams like anyone else who recently join in the college. But my entire schooling I had been doing in mother tongue which is Tamil. So initially it was a challenge for me to pick up the subjects in English as well as in communication. Even though I struggled a lot at the beginning with the help of lecturers & some of the friend's encouragement, I was quickly able to pick up my studies as well as my communication skills. To be honest, in AIHT, there were many situations/circumstances helped me to shape my career.

In my opinion, AIHT is a very good place to study. Especially I felt that everyone in my department (CSE) was a part of family and lecturers were so friendly & fun making (even now). Many thanks for the college management and lecturers because of whom I am in this position now.

My one line advice for the AIHT students is, "Believe in yourself and trust that you can make it and definitely you will. Be confident in everything that you do".

Working as a Senior Software Engineer in Tech Mahindra, Chennai with 5 + years of IT experience and received the long service award for the same. Tech Mahindra is my first company.

- I had been working in Nissan Motor Manufacturing UK for 1 year (Aug 2014- July 2015) which is our client location.
- Many internal awards I received (Bravo, Pat on Back) in Tech Mahindra.
- I got a token appreciation from the team to have a message on it saying that "Proud to have you in a team".
- I have trained many Entry Level Training Programmers in our company and they have been doing good job.
- I had been a part of more than 10 successful implemented projects.
